This means that madrasas that do not take advantage of this role will be left behind, because they do not master the acquisition and dissemination of information. Madrasas and society are two environments that cannot be separated, they are interrelated with each other. Madrasah is an institution designed for teaching students under the supervision of a teacher, madrasa is the second educational institution after family education, and the community environment is the place where the education and teaching process is carried out.

The transition from informal to formal education requires collaboration between parents and institutions. The development of education cannot be separated from community participation, especially parents of students through various democratic ways, because the higher the participation, the higher the sense of belonging, and the higher the sense of responsibility towards education. It became a branch of MAN Takeran into a State Madrasah Aliyah. Thus the history of MAN 3 Magetan cannot be separated from the history of the Syuhada Foundation and MAN Takeran Panekan-Magetan. Since the establishment of MAN 3 Magetan until now, there have been several changes in leadership.

form of communication that is held between the institution concerned and anyone who has an interest.

Image has an important influence on the institution, in other words the image has an internal impact on an institution. Because the positive or negative image is very influential on the performance of the institution. Image is also a reality, therefore if market communication does not match reality, dissatisfaction will arise and ultimately consumers have a bad perception of the institution's image.\textsuperscript{10}

The image of an institution is an important thing in educational institutions in order to attract the interest of the general public. Educational institutions that have a positive image will also attract public interest to become part of the institution. If the institution displays a negative image, it will also have an impact on negative public perceptions.

The public's view of MAN 3 Magetan in terms of religion, learning, extracurricular activities is good and growing. However, there is one who explains that the level of discipline at MAN 3 Magetan needs to be increased. MAN 3 Magetan also has an advantage in competing with other institutions. public relations. So that an absolute communication is built effectively. Because effective communication is evidenced by feedback from other people and makes it very easy to establish relationships with other parties and the existence of the institution is maintained.

Public relations management at MAN 3 Magetan in building the image of the madrasa is carried out in three stages, namely planning, implementation, and evaluation. Researchers will analyze each stage of management:

1. Planning Data Analysis

The first stage in public relations management at MAN 3 Magetan is planning. With the first step, careful planning and carrying out clear programs and efforts to create an institution that has a good image will be realized, in accordance with the vision and mission of the institution. At the planning stage, MAN 3 Magetan identifies problems, formulates goals, organizes and others with all teachers and employees. The planning stage is carried out with meetings at the beginning of every year, every semester, every month, and sudden meetings.

Prior to the implementation stage, MAN 3 Magetan carried out the process of forming a structure or activity committee. In this case also involves many components, ranging from teachers, employees, and student organizations. This process is known as the organizing stage.

According to the researcher's analysis, the exposure of the data above if it is associated with theory, the planning stage of public relations at MAN 3 Magetan has complied with the requirements that must be met by public relations practitioners. first.

2. Implementation Data Analysis

In accordance with the research data in chapter III, public relations management at the implementation stage in building the image of the madrasa is carried out in various ways including socialization to schools or other institutions, keeping up with the times, using social media, holding milad, commemorating Islamic holidays and social services.
In management, the implementation stage is a process of capacity building and is a promotion and cooperation process.

3. Analysis of Evaluation Data

Public relations activities at MAN 3 Magetan were evaluated after the event was over. Evaluation is carried out by all parties concerned starting from planning and implementation. Evaluation of activities is carried out on two criteria, namely the effectiveness and efficiency of the activity. The effectiveness of the activity is how influential and how influential it is to two internal and external parties. Activity efficiency is whether the activity is appropriate or not detrimental to various parties.

According to this explanation, the evaluation of the public relations program conducted by MAN 3 Magetan was good and correct according to the researcher’s analysis. Because the evaluation was carried out at each completed event. Where the evaluation activities are able to summarize and conclude how the activities that have been carried out are in accordance with the objectives of the planning. Evaluation also serves as a material consideration in order to arrange the next event and to find solutions to avoid things that are not desirable.

In order for an organization or institution to be able to develop and be able to continue to adapt to environmental changes, capacity building or commonly called capacity building is an absolute thing that must go well. In general, capacity building is defined as the process of increasing the knowledge and skills, attitudes, and behavior of human resources.¹¹

At MAN 3 Magetan, in carrying out capacity building, that is by following the times. The way for MAN 3 Magetan in keeping up with the times is the existence of a skill program in each class. Skills programs held at MAN 3 Magetan are batik, multimedia, graphic design, light vehicle engineering, fashion, and catering. In addition to promotion, cooperation is also very influential on the development of an institution. So every institution must carry out a process of cooperation with internal and external parties.

At MAN 3 Magetan, there are several forms of promotion and collaboration. This is a realization of the implementation stage management.    According to the explanation above, according to the researcher’s analysis, socialization activities to junior high school are very good and really need to be done. In order to attract class IX junior high school students who will continue their education to a higher level. It can be concluded that the use of social media is very effective and helpful in the process of delivering information about madrasas. Based on the researcher's analysis, the use of social media by MAN 3 Magetan should be maximized. Because it is seen from the activity of MAN 3 Magetan's social media accounts sometimes it is not always updated. Active social media will add to the positive image of the community towards the madrasa. Because the dissemination of information through social media is very effective and efficient.

3. Holding a Milad

The competition activities that are held every year are always different. It depends on the situation and conditions.

This activity is one of the ways for MAN 3 Magetan to introduce themselves to outsiders, and also to attract the sympathy of prospective new students. Because in addition to socialization, it is hoped that the milad will also increase the participation of junior high school students who want to continue to a higher level.
